Language Laboratory Report
(2016-2017)

Language Laboratory Report (2016-2017)

Working in a Language Laboratory helps students not only to polish their LSRW but also help students familiarize themselves and become proficient in basic computer skills. They learn how to make a PPT, prepare a report, type official communication, and many more activities. Total beneficiaries from B.E. and B.Voc students are 200. Besides that, special attention was given to the Interview skills for the 1059 final UG students of the 2014 batch in order to facilitate placements.
